

U. S. History Honors

Course Description

Honors United States History is designed as a survey course, beginning with the Washington administration and continuing to current times. This course provides students with a framework for studying political, social, economic, and cultural issues and for analyzing the impact these issues have had on American society. As an honors course, students should expect a rigorous content level and pace. This course demands greater independence and responsibility and concentrates on the development of higher level thinking skills. Students will take the NC End of Course exam at the conclusion of the course.
